GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK.

SARATOGA BEGINS A NOTABLE TURF CAMPAICN TO-DAY.

Poor Field Named for the $10,000 Handlcap, Which May He Won by Bedouin -New Yorkers Left Without Their Paverite Sport for a Month-Entries.

For nearly four weeks thousands of turf enthusiasts in this city will be unable to see the horses run, because of the usual shift of the racing seene to Saratoga, where the annual summer campaign begins to-day.
While indications point to larger crowds than usual at the Spa, it is conceded already that the Saratoga Racing Association will not be able to show an equal profit with that of the other tracks under Jockey Club rule. The turf governors have deemed it advisable to let the metropolitan public have a rest in the month of August, but whether such a respite from the excitement at the track is desired by the great army of patrons who will not go to Saratoga is a question hard to answer.
Few will deny that if a local track could begin a meeting to-day which would conflict with the Saratoga session the usual crowds would be on hand. That would mean from 10,000 15,000 persons every day except Saturday when the figures, as usual, would be double. With sure profits of this kind to be gathered it is not at all strange that James Butler, chief owner of the Empire track at Yonkers, has for some time been anxious to conduct a race meeting there during the time that the millionaire turimen take their blue blooded thoroughbreds to the Spa. But so far Mr. Butler has been unable to secure a license from the State Racing Commission, which holds that the Yonkers track is both inaccessible and unfit for racing purposes. Mr. Butler has not given up the project by any means. He hopes to have matters so arranged by next year that he may provide an August race meeting for the metropolitan public and incidentally for the hundreds of poor owners who cannot afford to go to Sartoga and whose horses, as a result, must remain idle in 'long Island barns. If Mr. Putler persists in carrying out his ideas, therefore, and the State Racing Commission sees fit to oppose him, to the protection of Saratoga, there may be an interesting clash unless the turf governors make arrangements to hold ar August meeting themselves at one of the recognized tracks. As no track under the Jockey Club's rule can race more than thirty days each year, such an arrangement could be brought about by an increase of the number of racing dates for Aqueduct and Jamaica, which with a few tacked on and Jamaica, which with a few taxaet of to the usual quota assigned to the other tracks would move the regular summer meeting at Brighton up to August 1. As Brighton is the best summer track in America use of its location at the very edge of the sea, a meeting there in August would probably knock the Empire City opposition actually puts on war paint it is safe to say that New Yorkers will be forced to go without racing for the four weeks allotted to Saratoga and the more exclusive racing set. Saratoga always provides rich and classic ake events. In fact, the great value of these races has served to keep down the profits of the Saratoga Racing Association. But it was the policy of the late William C. Whitney, which is still pursued, to further the development of the thoroughbred regardless of the of the meeting on August 30 more than $160,000 in stakes alone will be distributed among horsemen, in addition to liberal added moneys overnight events. This magnet has served to draw the best horses in America to the Spa, where some superb racing is already assured. But the chief attraction for to-day, the $10,000 Saratoga Handicap, one mile and a quarter, really lacks the usually brilliant field which has been seen in years gone by. Only eight horses have been named to go and only eight norses have been named to and anot one of them can be pronounced a first class handloap performer. The Waldeck Stable's The Picket, who has been a disappointment ever since he won the Brooklyn Handicap two years ago, has been showing some fair trials and Carroll Reid believes he has a chance to take down the rich prize even with 118 pounds. The Picket worked a mile and a quarter recently in 2.98 and showed no indications of unsoundness. Lucien Lyne will have the mount and the Falsetto horse will probably be played for the last time F. R. Hitchcock's Dandelion, who had all he could do to beat Coy Maid in the Invincible Handicap at a mile and a quarter at the Beach on Thursday, will start, carrying 113 pounds. This horse is strictly a miler and in any kind of good company he has and in any gind or good company he has shown to a disadvantage at the handicap route. His stable companion, Tangle, a full sister to Tanya, who has not raced this year, has been working the required distance in about 2:10 and has developed into a fine young mare. John E. Madden has been getting Dandelion and Tangle ready for this race and he expects to win it. E. W. Jewett's Bedouin, however, is a dangerous proposition. He will pick up 109 pounds, and as he has been showing improvement in every race, he has been selected by many shrewd judges as the probable winner. Shaw will ride and that means skillful horsemanship if Shaw feels in the right mood. Agile has been a bad horse all the year. In fact he is little better than a selling plater. He has been started again and again when he seemed absolutely fit and his stable connections have bet on him, too, only to be thrown down hard. Frank Brown will start him to-day just to take a gambling chance. R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s Dolly Spanker, who, like Dandelion, does not like to go over a mile, has been elected to start probably with the idea that there will be no pace to speak of and that he will have a chance in the final stages when it comes down to a sprint. John A. Drake will be represented by Wes, a formidable selling plater, who has been well groomed for the race by Enoch Wishard and who is thought to have an outside chance. Wes, with the other Drake horses, got some bene-ficial racing at Salem, N. H., and has been at the Springs for the last two weeks. John Sanford decided at the eleventh hour not to start his crack three-year-old Mohawk II., but to reserve him for future stakes of greater value and importance. Mr. Sanford, there-fore, will be represented in the race by the Handicaps of the past, but at the same time it may provide a sensational race. The Flash Stakes of $8,000 for two-yearolds, five and a half furlongs, is a far more interesting feature of to-day's card in that me of the best colts in training will go to the post. James R. Keene's Peter Pan must pick up 125 pounds, conceding weight to T. Hitchcock, Jr.'s Golf Ball. H. B. Duryea's Hickory, a full brother to Eugenia Burch; H. P. Whitney's Marathon, August Belmont's Don Enrique and Rosemount; W. Lakeland's Electioneer, E. J. Long's Arcite, John Sanford's Flint Hill, a colt by Clifford— Whiplash, and R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s Aletheno. It will not be surprising if Peter Pan fights it out with Golf Ball and Electioneer.

The Saratoga Steeplechase, $5,000 added.

will afford a treat for the cross country set. It will be run over the short course with such jumpers as Kassil, Hylas, Grandpa and Coligny sporting silk. Trainer William Garth the way, said last week that it would not long before Kassil would be recognized as the greatest timber topper in America, even superior to the famous Good and Plenty, and Garth is not a joker, either. John A. Drake has both Rebo and the patched up Runnels in the first race, a six furlong sprint. Both are in splendid shape to meet such formidable horses as Robin Hood, Woodsaw, Lord of the Forest, Sir Russell, Kilkare and Gen. Haley. Drake has Rebo and Runnels also in the fifth race has Rebo and Runnels also in the fifth race at a mile, with Sir Russell, Champiain, Aucassin and Yorkshire Lad to beat. In the last race for maiden two-year-olds, five and a half furiongs, John Sauford will start a colt named Rockstone, by Rockton. August Beingham and Don Enrique, H. P. J. S. Prentice, the Hervard crack, beat S. S. Boardman, 2—4, 6—2, and J. S. Prentice beat H. W. Knez. 2—6, 8—6.

Whitney's Killiecrankie, Newton Benning-ton's Waterbury and H. M. Ziegler's Malacca are all dangerous.

The Mohawk Selling Stakes for three-year-olds, one mile and a furlong, will be run to-morrow. The $10,000 Spinaway for two-year-old fillies, five and a half furlongs, is Wednesday's feature with James R. Keene's Pepe Joan, a filly by Disguise—Editha, and the stake winner, Cant Dress, heading a list of eligibles which includes Dollie Dollars, Fantastic, Too iles, Jersey Lady, Saghalien, Estimate, Glamor and others. On Thursday the Alabama Stakes of $5,000 for three-year-old fillies, one mile and a furlong, looks to be easy for H. P. Whitney's entry, Brookdale Nymph, Perverse and Commune, as Comed-Jackson and Sue Smith are the best of the others. No stake will be run on Friday, but there will be plenty doing on Saturday with three separate attractions. The North American Steeplechase is one of them, after which comes the rich Saratoga Special for two-year-olds, six furloags. This will bring together the best youngsters, including T. Hitchcock, Jr.'s Salvidere and Golf Ball. August Belmont's Rosemount, James R. Keene's Grimaldi, Superman, Peter Pan, Ballot and Gretna Green; Sydney Paget's Water Pearl, Paul J. Rainey's De Mund, John Sanford's Rockstone, Flint Hill and Sir William Johnson, and H. P. Whitney's Marathon and Westbury. The third attraction is the $7,500 Travers Stakes for three-year-olds, one mile and a quarter, with the much talked of Mohawk II. meeting Accountant, Kurcki, Bohemian, Bull's Ormondale, Preverse and Ticker. Alto-gether the week will bristle with interesting turf events. To-day's card is as follows:

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Corinthian Club football team, which is to play matches in Canada and the United States, left London on Friday afternoon for Quebec. With one or two exceptions the team is composed of two exceptions the team is composed of Cambridge or Oxford players. Five of the members, Capt. C. Wreford-Brown, H. Morgan-Owens, S. H. Day, D. G. Wright and D. O. Corbett, belong to the international team. Before leaving Euston Square station Capt. Wreford-Brown said:
"We are going in the hope of being able to popularize association football in America, as a result of the recent controversy upon the merits of the American game. We are strong in every department of the game, so it will take a really good team to beat us. I regard the tour as an educational mission for the benefit of the American public, and I believe the American football authorities have invited us with the object of studying and per haps eventually adopting our game."

Dempsey will coach the crew of the Potomac Deinpsey will coach the crew of the Potomac Boat Club for the Middle States regatta on Labor Day and says that that will be his final appearance as a rowing coach.

Georgetown men are not prepared to say what they are going to do to replace Dempsey, but it is pretty well settled that his withdrawal will not stop rowing at the university although it has been in a precarious condition for the last two seasons.

PEACE FLEET AT NEW LONDON.

MORE THAN 200 VACHTS AT AN-CHOR IN HARBOR.

Picturesque Scene When the New York Yacht Club Squadron Makes Colors at Sunset-Entries for Aster and King's Cup Races-Queen's Good Showing.

NEW LONDON, Aug. 5.-The fleet of the New York Yacht Club kept in the harbor to-day. There are more than 200 yachts here and the regatta committee went among them this morning on Commodore Vander-bilt's steamer Mirage getting a complete list. Among those that are in the harbor that have attracted attention are ex-Commodore J. Pierpont Morgan's steamer Corsair, Henry H. Rogers's steamer Kanawha, ex-Commodore Eldridge T. Gerry's steamer Electra, ex-Cemmodore James D. Smith's auxiliary Viking, ex-Commodore Bourne's Colonia and several more floating palaces. To make the scene in the harbor more picturesque three cruisers, two monitors and the despatch boat Dolphia are anchored off the Pequot House. The day was a glorious one. Early in the morning it was still and hot, but later on a southwesterly breeze blew in and made every one comfortable. Each yacht dressed ship at colors this morning and when the wind made the bunting futter the scene was a gay one. Steamers, schooners and sloops were all smothered with multi-colored flags. All day long launches and small boats crowded with spectators circled in and out among the yachts and it was a sight that the summer residents thoroughly enjoyed. As the sun neared the horizon like a huge ball of fire, bugle calls sounded on the war-ships and on the flagship North Star, and all through the fleet men stood by the halyards ready to make colors. The bells tinkled six bells and a few minutes later the bugles sounded again and to the tune of "Columbia," while all stood at attention, the flags were owered and the next minute a thousand lights blazed out on the water. The light grew fainter and fainter, a quiet settled over the fleet, and soon after the moon, another big red ball, rose in the mast and was soon shining on a peace fleet that lazily lifted and fell on the water of the harbor.

The yachtsmen spent the day resting.

Two days of hard racing had made them welcome the day of rest and they will be better able to go on with the fighting to-welcome the day of rest and they will be better able to go on with the fighting tomorrow.

The racing so far has been very satisfactory, and the run on Friday, when they had a beat all the way, was one that showed the sailing qualities of the yachts. The Queen on that day did well; so well in fact, that it is the general opinion that she will win the King's cup and the Astor cup if there is anything of a breeze on those days.

The Yankee too has done well. Harry L. Maxwell has beaten the Rainbow twice, and as the Rainbow is sailed by Capt. Barr, the best skipper in these waters, it is quite a feather in the cap of Mr. Maxwell, who is an amateur and sails only for pleasure. He is not one of the kind who buy a yacht and then hire the best professional talent to sail it. He is better pleased to win one race sailed by himself than a dozen when his boat is sailed by his sailing master.

The Effort continues to be somewhate rratic, but her change in form is chiefly due to the fact that F. M. Smith, who owns the yacht, is learning how to sail her. It is a singular fact that when the yacht, has won Capt, Howe has had the wheel, and in his hands she can beat the others in her class in almost any weather. She was leading on Saturilay at Cornfield light when Mr. Smith took the wheel, and after that the Weetamoe steadily overhauled her and finally won by 17 seconds. The Effort is Mr. Smith's new toy, and while it is commendable of him to want to sail his own craft and win it is rather hard on the reputation of the yacht and the designer.

The committee to-day reported the entries that have been received for the Astor and King's cup races. The Astor cups will be sailed for off Newport on Tuesday. There are two cups, one for schooners and one for yawls and sloops. The Hordways and sloops. The Hordways and sloops. The horties for the sloop cup are: W. E. Iselin's Vigilant, W. Gould Brokaw's Sybar-

Brewster's Elmina and W. S. Eaton's Taormina.

The entries for the sloop cup are: W. E. Iselin's Vigilant, W. Gould Brokaw's Sybarita, Harry L. Maxwell's Yankee, Cornelius Vanderbilt's Rainbow, F. M. Sm th's Effort, H. F. Lipp'it's Weetamoe, E. D. King's Neola, E. Waiter Clark's Irolita, Cleveland H. Dodge's Hester, Fred M. Hoyt's Isolde, S. Reed Anthony's Doris, E. W. Emmons, Ind's Humma, A. H. Morris's Gardenia, A. H. and I. W. Alker's Alera, J. E. and G. C. Meyer's Atair, W. Butler Duncan, Jr.'s Dahinda, C. Mallory Pynchon's Neola II. S. Wainwright's Caramia, Howard Willets's Minx, Clifford D. Mallory's Banzai and G. W. Wetmore's Phryne.

For the King's cup all yachts sail in one class and the entries are Corona, Taormina, Amorita, Elmina, Vigilant, Sybarita, Yankee, Rainbow, Effort, Weetambe, Neola, Hester, Irolita, Isolde and Doris. The entries for these races do not close until to-morrow morning.

The Oueen, J. Rogers Maxwell's schooner,

these races do not close until to-morrow morning.

The Queen, J. Rogers Maxwell's schooner, has been entered in both races, but her rating certificate has not been properly filed with the committee The committee announced that ratings must be filed with the committee before the time of closing entries and Mr. Maxwell's attention was called to the omission this morning. It was a surprise to him and he hustled his son, Harry Maxwell, off ob Bristol to get the figures necessary to complete the certificate and it will be filed in time. The committee has made two small changes in the classification for to-morrow. The Emerald and Tekla will form a class of auxiliaries by themselves and the Invader will race in the class with the Muriel, Ariel and Endymion.

There is already talk on new yachts for next race in the class with the Murrel, Ariel and Endymion.

There is already talk on new yachts for next season, and one prominent yachtsman is thinking of having a racing schooner for the 96 foot class which will sall against the Queen, Elmina and Corona. James Loughlin, Jr., of Pittsburg, who now owns the yawl Flying Cloud, has purchased the auxiliary Ariadne, but the yacht is not to be turned over to him until the end of the month. The Adiadne is owned by B. W. Putnam, Jr., and was built from designs by Clinton H. Crane.

To-morrow's run will be to Newport. The fleet will leave the harbor at 8:30 o'clock, and at 9:30 the races will be started. The finish will be off Brenton's Reef lightship, forty miles away. With wind like to-day's the race will be a fast one.

ROWING.

Greer's Entry for Champlenship Rejected by Regatta Committee of N. A. A. O. Frank B. Greer of the Boston Athletic Association, the champion sculler of America, will be unable to defend his title at the National meet on Lake Quinsigamond next Saturday. His name was scratched off the official list by the regatta committee of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, which met at the New York A. C. yesterday for the purpose of passing on the eligibility of those entered.

About two months ago Greer left the East Boston A. A. and was elected a member of the Boston A. A., and thereby violated the ninety day clause of the N. A. A. O., which stipulates that an oarsman must be a member of a club for three full months before he can represent it in open competition. As the neeting was a private one the actual obmeeting was a private one the actual of-jection to Greer's entry could not be learned, but there was a report that the rejection of his name for the championship senior sculls was not unanimous, there being a voice or two in his favor. For the last couple of weeks the Greer entry caused considerable discussion in this locality, especially as the most formidable opposition would be found among scullers of this district.

A number of fair minded oarsmen stated that Greer should be allowed to start, and it was pointed out that he was not a pothunter, as he had not appeared in public compettion since last year's championship, which made his case different from that of a man who would scurry around scooping up every-thing in sight. Against this sportsmanlike feeling, however, there was a partisan clique insisting that the law should be enforced and Greer debarred. With the Bostonian out the tusale for the title will be left between feeling, however, there was a partisan clique insisting that the law should be enforced and Greer debarred. With the Bostonian out the tussie for the title will be left between Fred Shepheard of the Seawanhaka B. C. and C. S. Titus of the Nonpareil R. C., the only entries. That this important svent will be a tame affair is a foregone conclusion, for except Shepheard is sick or that he might burst an oar or fall out of his boat he will have next to a walkover. Oarsmen consider Titus no match for the Seawanhaka man and say it will be a procession from the orack of the gun to the fall of the flag.

Next in point of importance to the championship sculis is the senior eight, which, along with three others, has attracted the crew of the Argonaut R. C. of Toronto, Canada. The names of the men are not given, but it is understood they will be the same who tried for the grand challenge cup at Henley this year. The New York A. C., Argonauts and Wachusetts R. C. of Worcester, Mass., and Riverside B. C. Cambridge, Mass., will oppose the Canucks. The New York A. C., Argonauts and Wachusetts are the entries for the intermediate eight event, so they when the senior is reached the spectators will have had a good line on the merits of the crews.

In all the entry list includes the fine total of sixty-one. In the intermediate singles there are ten; two—John J. Ryan, Harlern R. C., and Louis Major, First Bohemian B. C.—are from Scullers' Row. Other aspirants are: Frank Shea, Sheepshead Bay R. C.; Thomas McGee, Ravenswood B. C.; Joseph T. Daly, Potomac B. C.; A. Warnock, Springfield B. C.; Frank Davy, Riverside B. C.; Howens, Jr., Wachusett B. C. J. C. Henderson, Winnipeg B. C., comes all the way from Winnipeg. Manitoba.

C. B. Wood of the Philadelphia Barge Club, who has defeated Shepheayd twice this year, is entered in the association singles, and irom this locality there will be such cracks as Fred Fleessel, Harlem R. C.; Durando Miller, New York A. C.; Frank Vesely, First Bohemian B. C. With the exception of ingles, and irom th mark which is likely to stand for many years.

HARVARD'S PRACTICE DELAYED. Crew on the Course, but Their Shells May Not Reach Them Promptly.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—It is expected that the Harvard oarsmen, who will race the Cambridge University crew next month, will not commence their practice at Bourne End for three days. They arrived here yesterday, but the intervention of Sunday and a bank holiday will, it is thought, cause delay in their getting their boats from Liverpool. Amateur Coach P. C. Lehman, describing crew when the cable despatch of the Harvard crew regarding the race on the Thames arrived, says that the Cambridge men were scattered all over Europe. After getting the consent of the president of the Cambridge University Boat Club he began to hunt for them by means of the telegraph. Meanwhile he assembled all the Cambridge graduates who could be reached and discussed 'with them the challenge from the Harvard crew. All agreed that it must be accepted if a crew could be procured in any way. Several oarsmen not belonging to the 1906 crew said they were willing to row if they were wanted. Then answers began to come from the others

Mr. Lehman savs the Harvard oarsmen quite understand that the race is not for any championship. They preferred a contest with the Cambridge winning crew, but would rather meet a scratch lot than not race. It would have been impossible to arrange a championship race, as it would have necessitated a meeting of the Cambridge University Boat Club, consisting of twenty-five or thirty different organizations, which was quite out of the question in vacation time. When asked to predict the outcome Mr. Lehman shook his head doubtfully and said: "We have a good crew, but Harvard is very strong. I understand their crew weighs more than ours."

WHO WILL COACH COLUMBIA?

Many Names Suggested for New Rowing Teacher, but None Has the Job.

The name of James Rice of Toronto, thereabouts, is the seventh addition to the list of probable and possible coaches of the Columbia crew for next season. Rice is declared to have practically closed the deal to be the coach here. Francis S. Bangs of Colum-bia, the most important man in the sport at the local institution, says he knows noth-ing about the deal. Incidentally Rice was named to be going to succeed Andy O'Dea at Wisconsin right after the resignation of the

O. re-ceived a letter from Andy O'Dea just before ceived a letter from Andy O'Dea just before the intercollegiate regatta, in which O'Dea said he would like to come East and coach a big club or college. O'Dea now is out West in Idaho, and the chances are that he will make no try. Dempsey of Georgetown being free, his name and that of O'Dea have been suggested for Columbia. Ned Hanlan, Edward Ten Eyck and Richard Glendon, not even forgetting Courtney, who has "resigned from Cornell and who has "entered a sanitarium" in New York, also are on the list. It is suggested that Courtney came here in order to he near the field of negotiations.

Meantime Mr. Bangs and his associates are not saying if Jasper T. Goodwir will be the coach again, although there seems a strong probability that he will. John N. Boyle, who recently announced that he had been elected captain of the Columbia crew says that nothing will be done until next fall that can be definitely announced.

SCARCITY OF NEW YORK HITS.

GRIFFITH'S MEN DROP A GAME IN ST. LOUIS.

Make Only One Run and That Not Until the Ninth Inning—Misjudged Liner by Con-roy Becomes a Home Bun—Newton Outpitched by Petty-Lively Hitting.

St. Louis, Aug. L .- The New York Americans dropped a game to the Browns to-day. For three innings Newton pitched excellent ball, but in the fourth Stone drove a single to centre, a low liner over the pitcher' head which he stretched into a homer owing to the fact that Conroy misjudged it and ran in too far. In the last half of the fifth St. Louis again became active. With two out Jones rapped a two bagger to left and scored on Stone's drive to centre. The visitors were unable to score until the ninth, when Keeler beat out a bunt, Elber-feld walked and Keeler scored on Chase's out. Conroy filed to right. With one in and two out Elberfeld wandered away from second and was nailed by Pelty and O'Brien, closing the contest. Elberfeld followed O'Loughlin to the clubhouse protesting against the de-cision, but he was out by two feet and did not have the shadow of an excuse for his kick.

FAST PACER FROM JERSEY. Reuben 6. Beats Harold F. in Lively Brush

en the Speedway. The New Jersey contingent, headed by J. G. Lawrence and his bay pacer Reuben S., 2:09%, divided the honors on the Speedway resterday with a delegation from Brooklyn, but when the two factions came together in a clash of speed the New Jersey champion Rished in front.

Reuben S., 2.00%, harnessed to a feather-weight speed wagon, clearly demonstrated that the weight behind him was responsible for his losing performances earlier in the sea-son. Walter Kilpatrick, driving the California pacer Virginia, 2:09% took a shy at Reuben S. and worked hard to land the chestnut mare in front of the New Jersey visitor It was a vain effort, however, for Reuben . won by a length.

Henry Flaherty of Brooklyn, driving the bay pacer Harold F., gave the crowd one of the best brushes of the morning when he tackled Mr. Lawrence with Reuben S. The result was in doubt until Reuben S. passed the post, with Haroid F.'s head at his shoulder.

This was the only brush the Brooklyn champion lost. He beat the California bred pacer Agitate, 2:09, in whirlwind fashion, and then took George H. Huber and his bay pacer Harry Van, 2:21¼, into camp without being obliged to stretch his neck. Later in the morning Agitate showed just how good he was by winning a hard fought brush from Tar Tartar, 2:13%, driven by Randolph Baird. The two veteran pacers gave the crowd a Tar Tartar, 2:13%, driven by Randolph Baird. The two veteran pacers gave the crowd a fine exhibition of speed.

After being beaten by Harold F. Harry Van proved one of the best winners of the morning. He beat the chestnut pacer Better Luck quite handlly. Then Mr. Huber made bold to tackle the trotter The King. 2:10%, driven by M. L. Simon. In the days when the Clay King trotter headed the stable of David Lamar and defeated Swift, 2:07, and other champions in his class, Mr. Huber's pacer would have made but a poor showing against him. Yesterday Harry Van finished in front by fully a length.

What would probably have been the starevent of the morning was spoiled by circumstances beyond the control of either owner. John W. Cornish, driving the bay trotter Topsy, 2:08%, and Nathan Straus, with the black trotter Ted, 2:15%, came together for the first time and there was much speculation among the spectators as to the probable result. Unfortunately Topsy threw a shoe just below the quarrer mile post and this put her so much out of balance that she was easily beaten. Later Ted figured in a brush with the chestnut pacer Virginia, 2:09%, driven by Walter Kilpatrick. Mr. Straus started without recognizing the identity and gait of his competitor. It was a stern chase from first to last by the Norval trotter and Virgipia won by a comfortable margin.

E. Bettenur with the bay trotter Ravenur of a stern classe from the total assets of the rotter and Virgipia won by a comfortable margin.

E. Bottenur with the bay trotter Ravenwood figured among the good winners of the morning. Ravenwood stamped himself as a high class trotter when he finished in front of Henry Phillips's bay trotter James Shevilin, 2:13½, Thomas Lynch, Jr., sent the chestnut trotter Billy Cleveland, 2:19½, to make the next brush three cornered, but he finished third. Ravenwood put this brush to his credit. Billy Cleveland redeemed himself later by beating James Shevlin in a dingdong finish.

When Nathan Straus got up behind his champion trotter Ida Highwood, 2:20½, there was nothing in his class in the trotting division. Rather than miss a race he sent the flect daughter of Highwood, 2:21½, one brush against the pacer Virginia, 2:09½. After Virginia had led almost to the finish Ida Highwood came up with her accustomed rush and put the heat to her credit.

JULY BASEBALL CAMPAIGN. How the Clubs of the Major Leagues Fared During the Month. Both of the New York baseball teams

gained points during the month of July, though the gain of each was small. The New York Nationals improved their position, being third when the month began and tied for second place when it ended. The New York Americans were first on the first of July and second on the first of August.

Those that gained points in July in the National League were Chicago, New York, Cincinnati and Brooklyn, while the losers were Pittsburg, Philadelphia and Boston. The St. Louis club had the same percentage at the end as at the beginning of the month and it is a noteworthy coincidence that the St. Louis Americans also began and ended the month with the same percentage. The Chi-cagos and New Yorks both won more games than the Cincinnatis or Brooklyn, but gained less in points for the reason that victories for less in points for the reason that victories for teams below the .500 mark boost more and defeats take off less than for teams above the .500 mark.

The point gainers in the American League were Philadelphia, New York, Chicago, Washington and Boston, with Cleveland and Detroit the losers. The Philadelphias made the best showing gaining 28 points. The New Yorks were 4 points ahead of the Philadelphias on the first of July and 15 points behind them on the first of August, therefore losing ground during the month. Points gained and lost during July in the two leagues were as follows:

cup on its arrival here after Travis's victory at Sandwich, and after it had been to the repair shop THE SUN had an article on the restoration of the trophy to its original form and polish. Despite all care and the careful packing for the return voyage, the cup must be a bad traveller, to judge by this paragraph from the London Sunday Times: "Since the British amateur championship cup was carried triumphantly-perhaps a little too much so, judging by its condition on its returnacross the Atlantic two years ago the doings of American golfers have naturally com-manded a deal of attention in this country." The curiosity is pardonable, but the aspersion on the condition of the cup has been promptly resented by Simeon Ford of the Apawamis Club, who saw Travis win at Sandwich and is now in England. Ford had the following letter in Golf Illustrated

"My attention has just been drawn to the paragraph in the Sunday Times, which would seem to indicate that our friend Travis had been guilty of abusing the cup which he won at Sandwich. I was with Travis when the cup arrived—by express, charges not pre-paid. It was in a leather case, loosely packed, and looked rather the worse for wear and tear. It looked as though infants might have been teething on it, or as if some previous holder had used a niblick not wisely, but too well upon it. We packed it carefully, and on arrival at New York Travis sent it to our leading silversmith, where it was put into shape. It was then turned over to Travis's home club, the Garden City Golf Club, and the secretary at once put it in a safe deposit vault, where it remained until it was shipped back to Albion's shore.

"From my acquaintance with Travis I feel sure that he neither pawned it nor used it as a cooking utensil, but I fear poor Walter will never be forgiven for his audacity in winning that much envied nightmare in silver. But we who know him and admire him as a good golfer and thorough sports-man hate to see such nasty digs as he gets occasionally in English papers."

Southampton, Aug. 5.—A thirty-six hole medal play handleap brought to a conclusion the annual tournament of the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club yesterday. The conditions were ideal and atoned for the rain and mist of the match play days, leaving a sweet memory of the course with all visitors. The winner was Adrain H. Larkin of Baltusrol, the Southampton summer resident who beat Douglas two years ago in the tournament. Larkin's card was 163, 12—151. He came home in 37 in one round, which included two missed puts and a penalty stroke. Travis and W. H. Bocock of Athens, Ga., were Judge Russell's guests and played together, the former winning the gross score prize. Travis's card was 39, 38—77 for the morning and 40, 35—75 for the afternoon. The handicap last year was at eighteen holes, U. A. Murdock winning with 80, 6—74. C. T. Richardson won in 1904, under the same conditions as to-day, with 156, 14—142, and Findly Douglas won the gross with 152, which included the record for the links of 71. The summary:

The close finish in the Shinnecock Hills handicap is another compliment to the careful work of the M. G. A. handicap committee. The general list had a revision before the tournament. Fifty players were added at The general list had a revision before the tournament. Fifty players were added at new ratings, the number including T. M. Sherman, Wykasyl, at 4; Fred Herreshoff.
